Sir,

Subject:- Agricultural Pests and Diseases Act, 1919-(Bellary) Hospet taluk-certain villages- smut diseases in sugarcane crop-Notification under Section 3 of the Act, issue of - Requested-

Reference: No. 264/43 dated 15th September from the District Agricultural Officer, Bellary.

The Assistant in Mycology, Bellary, first observed the smut disease in the sugar cance crop in the Hospet area, comprising the 34 x villages of the Hospet taluk in this district mentioned in the enclosed draft notification, in June 1941. The percentagex of infection then was between 1 and 2. He and the General Agricultural staff, conducted the propeganda and advised the ryots to plugkout the diseased x roots and burn themas a measure to combat the disease. In 1942 the disease again appeared but the percentage of infection was almost of the same. Inspite of the efforts of the routine Agricultural staff, this year the disease has again appeared and the percentage of infection is observed xxx to be 7 to 8 in general and in rare cases even 10. The District Agricultural Officer, Bellary is of opinion that a departmental anti-smut campaign should be conducted for at least three seasons so as to completely xxx eradicate the disease as otherwise, it may prove a great obstacle to cane cultivation in this area and requests that the provisions of the Madras Agricultural Pests and Diseases Act, 1919, may be enforced in this area so that the campaign may be all effective. I agree with thim and recommend that the provisions of the Act may be enforced in the said area in regard to the sugar cane smut disease. Draft notification under Section 3 (1) and 19 of the Act is submitted.

No.C-2.1451/43 dated 24th December 1943.

Sir,

Sub: Agricultural pests and diseases act 1919 - (Bellary) Hospet taluk - certain village - smut diseases in sugarcane crop - Notification enforcement.

Ref: Government endorsement No.34851-AII/43-1 dated 30th Oct. 1943.

I am in agreement with the Collector's recommendation that a campaign should be started for the control of the smut disease of sugarcane and that the provisions of the Madras Agricultural Pests and Diseases Act, 1919 should be enforced to render the campaign effective. The draft notification furnished by the Collector is in order.

2. To carry on the campaign for three seasons, I propose to sanction after Government have issued the notifications the employment of a special staff comprising 3 temporary maistris on Rs.15/- each plus Rs.5 per mensem Fixted Travelling Allowance for a period of 3 months in each season i.e. from 1st July to 30th September.

3. The Government Mycologist, Coimbatore states that smut disease of sugarcane is not confined to Bellary. It is also very prevalent in the South Arcot district, where a simple method has been devised for controlling the disease. It is also reported that the method has been systematically followed by Messrs. Parry & Co., in their plantations with success. The method is as follows;

4. Coolies go through cane fields row by row with a drillbag (the mouth of which can be tied up with a string). They collect the infested shoots below the black top and place them carefully in the bag. The bag is kept closed while the coolies move about in the field in search of infected shoots. When the bags are full, they are brought to a central place and the unopened bags with their contents, steeped in a drum or cauldron of boiling water for 15 minutes. After this operation which kills the spores within the shoots and those adhereing to the bags, the bags are opened and the shoots thrown into a fire. The cost of control under this method worked out at 0-8-0 to Rs.2-9-5 per acre depending upon the extent of infection. I consider that this method which has been found to be eminently successful in South Arcot should be adopted in Bellary also. Propaganda will be done to that effect by the district staff who will also demonstrate the method at a number of important centres. The collection of smutted shoots has to be done thrice in a season viz. (1) soon after germination of setts, (2) after tillering and (3) after formation of the cane.

5. The inclusion of the method described above as a remedial measure, in the notification to be issued under the act, must however wait till the ryots have been sufficiently educated in the application of the method.

Your obedient servant,

for DIRECTOR OF AGRICULTURE.

From the Collr. of Bellary R.O.C. No.3/Fn.I, dated 23-10-45.
Rc. G.O.Ms.No.1451/45 dated 24-11-45.

In connection with the Collr. of Bellary requested the Govt. to enforce the provisions of the Madras Agrl. Pests and diseases Act 1919 in the Hospet area of the Bellary taluq, in order to help the Agrl. Dept to carry the campaign against the smut disease in the sugarcane crop which is proving a great obstacle to the cane growers in that area. It was suggested that the campaign should be conducted at least for [illegible] to instil [illegible] completely. The draft notification [illegible] is furnished [illegible]

The D.A. [illegible] mendation. He has also furnished to Govt. the remedial measures adopted successfully in the South Arcot district for the same disease and considers that this method need not be included in the draft notification till the ryots have been sufficiently educated on the same. The D.A. proposes to employ 3 temporary maistries on Rs. 15 each with F.T.A. of Rs.5 p.m. from the 1st July to 30th September in each season after the issue of the notification as special staff to carry on the campaign. The D.A. will perhaps apply for sanction of the staff when necessary. Something like this is needed. It appears to others are necessary now.

It is for consideration [illegible] Collector's recommendation to [illegible] be [illegible] the collector's the Act to be enforced in 34 villages of the Hospet taluq, but in the list furnished in the draft notification the names of only 31 villages are given. The Collector [illegible]
